

Wednesday 25 November 10-12pm Pro- Zoom seminar

“Neurodivergent voices good practice in the workplace in a time of Covid ”

Drawing on key themes from the AchieveAbility E Journal published in April 2020.
<https://www.achieveability.org.uk/files/1586122571/e-journal-achieveability-neurodivergent-voices-april-2020pdf.pdf>

We will be inviting all the participants from the seminar at the University of Westminster in 2019 and those who have expressed an interest (from 50 to 70 people can attend). This event will be recorded; by attending you agree to this recorded event.

The event is informed by our present e-journal (April 2020). We would like to publish a further e-journal based on this new Zoom event to address this time of Covid; the benefits, plus any new practice. To attend contact: westcommission@achieveability.org.uk

Programme

Welcome from Melanie Jameson: Co-chair Dyslexia Adult Network (DAN)

Purpose and Aims of the Conference Dr Katherine Hewlett and Dr Ross Cooper

The importance of language and values Dr Ross Cooper

(Pre recorded talks 10 minutes each)

Tom Neil Flexible management and working places
Senior Adviser at ACAS

Katherine Kindersley Workplace adjustments
Director of Dyslexia Assessment and Consultancy

Break out rooms

Q and A

(Pre recorded talks 10 minutes each)

Becki Morris Director of *DCM and The Passport Programme
Charles Freeman of CF Projects

Atif Choudry Active use of technology in the workplace
Founder and CEO of Diversity and Ability

Break out rooms

Q and A

Dr Katherine Hewlett Summing up and the way forward

Disability Collaborative Network*